BULGARIA SURRENDERS UNCONDITIONALLY

Paris, Sept. 27.—Gen. Franchet d'Esperey, commanding the allied armies in Macedonia, has telegraphed to the French government that a high Bulgarian officer has presented himself in behalf of Gen. Todorov, commanding the Bulgarian army, asking the suspension of arms for 48 hours to permit the arrival of two authorized delegates from the Bulgarian government. The minister of finance, L. Luchitch, and Gen. Jankoff, commanding the Bulgarian Second Army, are on their way to the French headquarters with the assent of King Ferdinand to arrange the conditions of the armistice and eventually the terms of peace.

London, Sept. 28.—Great Britain has replied to the Bulgarian request for an armistice. The reply, it is stated, is fully covered by the answer given the Bulgarian representatives by the commander of the Allied army on the Macedonia front. By this reply it is perfectly well defined that no military operations can be suspended.

At the same time, regarding the proposal that duly accredited Bulgarian representatives should confer with the Allies on the question of peace, it has been made quite clear to the Sofia government that such a proposal necessarily involves a complete rupture by the Bulgarian government with Turkey, Germany and Austria-Hungary. The Allied governments necessarily demand every guarantee which they consider necessary to them to safeguard their military operations and prevent the dispatch of German troops to Bulgaria.

London, Sept. 30.—News that Bulgaria had yielded to the allies' terms was received here today. Russia's limited state, that Bulgaria's surrender was unconditional.

The Serbian legion received announcement of the Bulgarian surrender. No details were made known up to 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Certain subsidiary conditions the Central News says, were submitted by the Bulgarian government. These however, conflicted in no way with the demands of allied command, which demands the Bulgarians accept unconditionally.

The prompt acceptance by the Bulgarian delegation of the terms was a surprise to the newspapers and to the public. The expectation had been that the Bulgarian envoys on general principles would advance terms of their own and endeavor to engage in debate for a time.

The brief and authoritative statements issued here indicated that the allies had virtually issued an ultimatum to Bulgaria. Apparently they were firm in their demands. The chief point now is Germany's action. Some reports from Germany state that she will try to keep Bulgaria in line by force, but her ability to do so is another question.

Paris, Sept. 30.—The armistice between Bulgaria and the allies was signed last night at Saloniki dispatch states.

Gen. Franchet d'Esperey, the allied commander-in-chief in Macedonia, signed for the allies and the Bulgarian delegates for their government. Instructions have been given by the government to Gen. d'Esperey to proceed immediately to the execution of the conditions of the armistice.

London, Sept. 30.—Speaking at the Guildhall today, Andrew Bonar Law, the Chancellor of the exchequer, said a Bulgarian convention had been signed by which hostilities ended today at noon.

Bulgaria, by the terms fixed gives up completely the control of the railways, the chancellor stated.

Control of the Bulgarian railways, the chancellor pointed out, gives control of Bulgaria.

"This convention, means," said the chancellor, "that communication between Germany and the east in that direction has been cut off and that the German dream of a German satellite, eastern empire has gone forever."

"There is no changing of metal here at the wonderful success of the past week," the chancellor remarked, "but joy bells are ringing in all our hearts."

GERMAN PAPERS URGE GOVERNMENT TO MAKE PEACE

Amsterdam, Sept. 30.—The German press today has emphasized the need for cool heads. The possibility never before entertained or visualized is beginning to dawn on the people that Germany may lose the war, and the suddenness of this realization has had a bewildering effect on them.

The Zeitung Am Mittag entirely approves as wholly applicable, the sensational editorial printed in Vorwarts last week, dealing with what would happen should an enemy succeed in invading the Fatherland. It makes an assertion remarkable for this newspaper, saying:

"Our government throughout this terrible war has avoided hinting at this, and other possibilities, namely, that the war may be lost if everybody and everything are not united in the utmost effort."

"The government has thus itself contributed to veiling the real gravity of war," the newspaper continues. "It has preferred to lead the nation in blunders past the abyss of danger to one national life."

The Rheinische Westfalen Gazette shudderingly contemplates the Bulgarian situation as "the last and highest wave," and suspects that the Bulgarians, after having got the Dobruja region of Rumania, have no further use for Germany.

The Frankfort Zeitung expresses regret that the government failed to impress on friend and foe with "truth" that Germany did not go into the war out of love of power. This newspaper freely admits that the Bulgarians are justified in feeling wary, and thinks the Bulgarian people will stand by Premier Malmoff. Finally, the Frankfort Zeitung begs the government to make peace, "unequivocally and sincerely."

The Dusseldorf Nachrichten bewails the fact that troops will have to be sent to Macedonia from the west front, "where they are no longer needed." Its sister publication, the East Prussian Zeitung, speaks of "bad news coming thick and fast," and repeats its previous assertion that the Germans must be strong. Later on in its editorial, the Essen Journal falls into bitter abuse of "blaming Wilson and his mob of lychners."

AUSTRIA DESIRES PEACE AT ONCE

Amsterdam, Oct. 1.—According to Budapest newspapers, the Austro-Hungarian government desires peace is agreement with Germany, notwithstanding the fact that measures have been taken for defense, as a result of Bulgaria's withdrawal from the war.

EIGHT CENTS PER ACRE FOR RAIL

Edmonton, Oct. 2.—Eight cents an acre, the lowest rate ever imposed for municipal hail insurance in Alberta has been agreed upon as the rate to be levied on land in crop this year under the operation of the municipal hail insurance system of the province. The board is now meeting in the city, and after going through all the reports and claims for losses has fixed its acre rate, which is additional to the flat rate provided by the law, at five cents an acre.

The total losses for the year were found to amount to slightly over $185,000, the lowest for any of the five years since the system has been organized. Last year's losses were $446,897, and the acre rate was 35 cents. The flat rate of 10c per acre applies to all assessable land in the hail insurance district.

Fred and John Wansick, of Opal, Alta., were each found guilty by justices of peace of hoarding flour and sentenced to serve three months in jail. Fred Klachuk was sentenced to three months for the same offence, while Mrs. Wong Foo was fined $100.

Brings the Elevator Nearer the Grower's Grain

ON the prairie the miles that separate the grain from the elevator or loading centre often means a loss to the farmer. The Ford One-Ton Truck fitted with a dump body fulfills the grain grower's every requirement. The truck may be loaded direct from the thrasher—it eliminates expensive and unnecessary handling.

The dump body is only one of the many styles used efficient work for the Canadian grain grower, farmer, producer and distributor. For example, in many districts a suitable body has been attached to the Ford Truck Chassis and is being used for transporting children to and from consolidated schools.

THRIFTING, ARE YOU?

By Edmund Vance Cooke

We think we are thrifting.
But maybe we're drifting.
And the coin that we crink is not saving but shifting.
For seemingly spending
Goes on without ending
And heedlessness still is the tend of our treading.
In gleaming my meaning,
You'll find gasolining
Is still used for driving instead of for clearing.
And most of us batten
On fine ware and fashion,
While rolling our coffers in purple
and satin.
Oh, maybe you're guilty and maybe you're not.
But ask: "Have I thrifted as much as I ought?"
Our thrifting is tickle,
It runs in a trickle.
We nickle a nickel to give us a tickle,
Then ride on the trolley
To go to the Folies.
And hand ourselves thanks and a couple of jollies.
Man still goes on puffing,
Imbuing, and stuffing,
And holding enough yet without
"Hold" enough!"
White woman still goes
And shows us her toes.
All aikin and sheer to excuse her dis-closes.
At the end of the day, if you're feeling too good,
Ask this: "Have I thrifted as much as I should?"

POETS, ATTENTION!

The Dominion Press News and Feature Committee of the Victoria Loan 1918 organization announces a poem contest in connection with the campaign. Canadians with poetical talent are invited to submit offerings not exceeding 200 words, which will be judged largely on their effectiveness as publicity designed to persuade Canadians to buy Victory Bonds. A prize of a $5.00 bond of the new issue will be awarded for the best poem submitted. The next best 24 will be awarded special mention and $5.00 will be paid for those which the committee decided to use in the course of the campaign. Professor
M. W. Wallace of the Toronto University and the editor of Victory

Loan National Press News and Feature Service will be the judges.

The committee offers to supply information concerning the urgency of the situation necessitating the coming loan, to all contestants who may apply to the committee's office, 15
King Street West, Toronto.

The contest closes on October 15th,
and awards will be announced later.

HUN SAILORS HAVE NO LOVE FOR U-BOATS

Brest, France, Sept. 23.—German sailors did not await British communication of the names of the commanders of the German submarines but they undergo loss of morale. This is indicated in the latest German communication regarding the publication of the list. Minutes in the German fleet had already taken place because of enforced service on the "U" boats.
The sailors objected to being included in the number of crews which never return since it was impossible to hide the loss of submarines from the rest of the fleet.

The Germans tried to hide their losses by hanging the submarine bases, scattering the crews, changing the system of numbering and excluding
"U" boats from the fleet. The recent German bulletin claims that more submarines are built than are lost. This is possible, since Germany does not lack material with which to construct submarines. However, she lacks experienced and trained sailors to man the "U" boats. The number of such boats actually cruising is known to be gradually decreasing.
At one time, they travelled in large groups, but now they rarely appear in groups of more than two.

The "U" boats are sinking ships westward bound from Europe, but perhaps operating in pairs. The "U" boat submarines near a port with its periscope out, patrolling for a convoy far enough away from it to see the smoke without itself being seen. It learns in what direction the convoy is sailing and its speed. Then by the night 20 "U" boats are needed for a blockade, since there is no way of locating the convoy. The Germans claim that the decrease of attack on the part of the "U" boats is due to the increase in the allied means of defense, with the augmentation of the number of allied submarines. It is true, that the allies have augmented their means of defense against the submarines. However, the reason mentioned has not yet been in operation.

American seaplane stations are just being equipped and the American stray fleet awaits new units of American chasers, which are just arriving. The allied submarines are not great factor in eliminating "U" boats because of their low range of vision and small targets presented by enemy submarines.

Recently a French submarine trailed a friendly convoy in an effort to sink the "U" boat if the convoy were attacked. The convoy was attacked when the night was at its darkest and an American ship was sunk by two torpedoes when only 800 yards from the Frenchman, who was on the surface hunting feverishly for the unseen enemy. The merchant ships, under full steam separated and rushed at high speed, passing within 600 feet of the Frenchman, who, despite the impudent danger of being run down, remained on the surface. The Frenchman did not see the German and neither he nor the enemy was seen by the convoy. The Frenchman was disrupted because he lost an opportunity, and remained on the scene for two days, hoping that the "U" boat would return to the wreckage. This illustrates the fallacy of the German statement.

At present there exists no way of preventing such torpedoing because of the nature of the submarine, though augmentation of sinkings is not feared. The increased demand for tonnage, is likely to cause another crisis in shipping because of the necessity of providing the American army with superiority of equipment.

BEST HUN TROOPS FACE CANADIANS

With the Canadian Forces, Sept.
25.—The advance by the Canadian army around Cambrai continued
yesterday against a stiffening enemy defense. Fresh divisions having been brought up to defend that city. Today
the enemy fought tenaciously, launching a number of counterattacks, which in one case gained ground temporarily. Toward the afternoon we had established ourselves firmly on the line from a little east of Bully, southeast on to near the railway on the western border of Belecourt and thence running near the railway to south of Sannoit. From there, the line followed the Douai-Cambrai road, with some posts pushed right into the village, of Neuville-St. Remy.
This village, which is in fact the northern suburb of Cambrai was captured very brilliantly by the 2nd Canadian division during the afternoon and forms an important link in the chain now being drawn in around the city.

Fighting has been exceedingly bitter from the kickoff, the other side of the Canal du Nord to Neuville-St.
Remy. The Canadian corps has penetrated 12,000 yards on a present frontage of 9,000 yards. On its left,
it has the advantage of splendidly thrown out by the eleventh British division, but on the right it has to hold its own flank and against the third Canadian division had stormed
the village of Fontaine Notre Dame, an essential strategic point east of Boulton wood. It was obliged by geographical necessity to expand its possession to include the north bank of the Canal du Escal. This advance has particularly the cessation of the famous Marceline line has not been accomplished without very hard fighting.

The nature of the attack, the unexpected surprise, it gained, the wonderfully effective artillery barrage,
and above all the incomparable dash
and tenacity of the Canadian infantry
—all these things contributed last Friday to enable us to make great drive with relatively small loss when the captures are taken into account.
Up to noon today these totalled 8,600
prisoners, including officers, and high rank and 140 guns. Although our infantry was leap-frogging in splendency, but there was a pause to organize, and consolidate, and to bring up the artillery into new positions. Transport difficulties, have increased as we have driven farther forward. Light railways had to be pushed across the canal up to our supply lines.

The enemy was alert and took advantage of this pause to bring up fresh divisions and throw them into violent counterattacks. He has always done the Canadian corps the honor to mass his best troops against it.

He did this at Amiens and at Arras,
and he is doing it today. Prussian guardmen are being used against us.
This has been the more serious and captured documents show that we only anticipated last Friday by four hours his prepared offensive. Our progress, therefore, although steady
during the second and third days, has been won only after the bitterest fighting. It is in this, which the gun defense has been used to the limit. A staff officer described the tanks of machine guns before forward
progress, therefore, although steady

The explanations I have given are naturally because the enemy has ple might get the impression that it has been a runaway victory.

From their positions in St. Oile and Neuville-St. Remy, the Canadians can look down upon the great city of Cambrai. This city is especially dear to the French heart and the strategy
of the allies had been to surround it, without hurt and this force the Boche to evacuate it. The stiffness of his resistance, the city recalled the fight
he put up behind the Drocourt-Queant with line early in September, before he fell back across the Canal du Nord.
He tried to force us to make a flimsy evacuate his guns and stores.

The fighting of the past three days
has been full of incident. The Canadian commander of the city recalled the appreciation of the ticklish situation on our right, he was receiving from his left flank, the ridge further on horseback. He had the had luck to be wounded, but not before he had made a new disposition. It was impossible to take and consolidate Bo-court, which lies in front of our fourth division, because the village is dominated by the ridge further south. Nevertheless, it was reported that five men of a British Columbian brigade were greatly distinguished in the village, and unaided, secured the village of the entire garrison of 200 Boches when they marched back into our own lines.

On our left the first Canadian division met and drove back a series of enemy counterattacks, when individual units were greatly distinguished themselves. The column of one famous battalion was killed while leading the enemy they reversed the attack,
and so goes the long record of heroic

It may be too great as to stagger the im-

But does anyone ask, "Can we do it?"

Money or no money, they do it. And some-

To-day in this critical period of our nationhood, there is imperative need for MONEY—
vast sums of money.

Only one way now remains to obtain it.

The nation must save, every community,
every family, every individual Canadian must save.

If anyone says "I cannot save" let him consider what extent he would pinch himself to relieve the sufferings of a loved one at home; and surely he would not pinch less for our fighting brothers in France.

Without suffering actual privations, nearly every family in Canada can reduce its standard of living, can practice reasonable thrift, can make cheerful sacrifice to enrich the life-blood of the nation.

DOING IT RIGHT

There is danger of mistaking much of the zest of the brilliant achievement that characterizes this war through-out, understanding the marvelous skill upon which the success of those undertakings depends. In the Zeppelin, glory, for instance, most people think only of the valor needed by those who manned the ships—a valor requiring them to face a violent and fairly disastrous bombardment. The sailors, according to the usual idea of the victory, did the thing which our soldiers do every time they go "over the top" and clean out gas-outs.

The fault is not to be laid at the door of the public, however, for they would cheer all the more lustily if they knew more of the cost of the victory in the way of preparation, the skillful laying of plans beforehand, and above everything else, the years of technical training which were necessary before Zeppelings or any other great victory was possible.

The "placing of the ship the way he wished it to be" was considered a simple enough by the commander when speaking of the captain of the ship the "Victory." It was indeed the plan of the ship that was the real achievement. Land-sea have, no way of knowing that unless a ship sinks on an even keel one end will be carried down stream and the other will stick up in the air. The ship, which finally settles in the line of the channel and will not obstruct navigation. German submarines and other vessels would still be going in and out of Zeppelings had the captain of the "Victory" not known how to do this masterly thing of sinking his ship to lie across the channel instead of lying parallel. Two other captains knew the same thing, and there the three vessels lie today with mathematical precision, as is now known from a photograph taken by a German officer in a low-flying aeroplane. How the photograph came into British hands is another story.

This is not the first time that German vessels have been bottled up during this war by British ships that blocked the harbour completely because their captains knew how to sink a ship the way it should lie. An old collier, the Newbridge, was given that honorable work to do when the German cruiser Konigsberg was bottled up in 1914 in the Ruffi river. The Newbridge had to be anchored head and stern, and there was a heavy fire from the shore. The rest of the story reads like the account of a crew's picnic ashore. After she was anchored into position the crew pulled the inlet valve, and while the ship was settling the crew stepped into the boat that was waiting. First the fate that would lose our some of the bottom plates, and then left her to do what she was meant to do. It given one a pleasant feeling to know that in this was both the Germans and the Turks have attempted to block the harbor in which British ships were lying, and that both have failed completely and clumsily.

THRIFT HALLMARKS A NATION

Saving the sloughy dollar in order to gratify one's desires in the matter of personal purchases has been a working force in society for a long time. To save for the sake of hoarding the golden decade form of insanity that has afflicted the misers of all time. To save in order to make another stronger is the highest form of thrift known. And exceeding this virtue of laying aside, extra dollars from our present surpluses, for the better living of society when times may not be so generous, we carry in us the marks of the true Canadian patriot.

He who loves his country is no waster. He knows his savings form the capital that makes business go. The dollar soon doubles itself and total savings of a thrifty people mark out the nation as a really great one. Lots of our Canadian citizens have made of every resident from the Yukon to Cape Breton, that he save his surplus dollars against a possible rainy day. The thrifty man is one of Canada's big patriots.

PRODUCTION MUST INCREASE.

The Canada Food Board says: There has been no call for slackening efforts. The impression seems to prevail that Canada has done well enough in growing grains, and the future is assured, so far as food is concerned. Such is not the case, nor will it be for some time to come. The call is for more and yet more production, and the cry for food is still loud in the ears of Canadians.

The hard work and self sacrifice of Canadians has borne fruit. Great Britain cannot be starved. There is no need to provide for the armies and the civilians until the next crop, but more. There are no food reserves, as there should be.

Indeed, Canada must double its production in 1919. Let that sink in. The continent of America has produced, and must deliver 15,000,000 tons of food stuff, this coming year. In 1917-18, 15,000,000 tons were promised and will be delivered. America must produce 50 per cent more, for the Allies. That's the job before the farmers, and citizens of this country. The great crops of grain in the United States in 1918 may not be duplicated next year, and Canada will have to deliver a still greater share.

There are but two ways of securing this total production and conservation. And the greater of these is production.

The manifest duty of the hour is to prevent the land for the coming of harvest crops in 1919.

Plough, plough, plough. This should be hammered into the consciousness of Canadian boys.

This country, with a year's experience in tractors, with several hundred more of them available this fall than in 1917, should be able to turn over many million more acres than ever in the history of this country. The more ploughed, the greater will be the production.

The weather is favorable, the machinery is available, the necessity of the times demands it. Then plough. Let the tractors hum for 24 hours a day.

SOME "SAVING" SENTENCES

Save, for Victory.

To save is the easier of practices if you have the will.

"Pinch your expenditure a little, and you'll find it will pay."

A dollar saved is a dollar earned. Save to lead to your country when it calls.

The will that saves is the will that wins.

Saving will provide both an umbrella and a mackintosh for the "rainy day."

Saving money is often the expression of saving grace.

Save to make Canada secure.

A man who is hovering on the verge of want is not his own master.

Save to save—both yourself and Canada.

Live within your means and your means will be increased.

If you don't live, within your means you must live on the means of others.

The first dollar saved is often the first step up the road to affluence.

Heaven helps those who help themselves. Moral—Save.

Don't be a victim of circumstances: help to shape circumstances by saving.

Sacrifice a present pleasure for a future good—save.

Save, remembering that to him that hath shall be given.

Saving carries its own reward—high interest.

THE LLOYD GEORGE TYPE

The one thing we all admire in Lloyd George, is that we know where to find him. He acts definitely. He is no take-away weakening. He fights on like our splendid boys ago, doing despite the 25,000 casualties since August 6th.

Are you doing your part as well? Have you taken your stand on the right question? Have you definitely decided that out of your good returns this year, you will pay by such-and-such an amount for a Victory savings account?

Don't Miss It

Reuter's correspondent interviewed Michael Anagnostis, the Greek minister of agriculture today. The minister said that Greece had 200,000 soldiers under arms and could raise an additional 100,000, but was handicapped owing to the lack of shipping facilities. They were immediately commencing to build ships. He concluded that he was convinced that the Saloniki front was far more important than was generally realized. "Soon there will be big developments there," he said.

THERE'S A WARNING IN TRADE FIGURES

Our Unfamiliar Position Illustrated—Thrifty Will Make Canada Secure

For those who understand Canada's financial conditions there is a significant lesson in the trade figures recently issued from Ottawa.

For the first five months of the present fiscal year there was a decrease in Canada's foreign trade of $75,000,000, or about 30 per cent. There was a great falling off alike in manufactures and agricultural products exported. The trade was $175,000,000, compared with $214,500,000 a year ago.

will conduct a big pick-up sale
of furniture, etc., at the warehouse
opposite the Wilton, on Saturday afternoon, October 12. Don't miss it.

In order that farmers and farm
children may have the opportunity of seeing the excellent moving pictures that are being shown at the Rex theatre, matinees will be given every Saturday afternoon from 3 o'clock to 6:30. The night shows will begin as usual at 8:30.

There was a large attendance, on last Friday night at the grand opening dance with music by Clarendon
and Calgary amalgamated orchestra.

Another dance with the music by the same ten piece orchestra will be given in the I. O. O. F. Hall on Friday night, October 11.

Mr. E. V. Chambers left on Saturday for Edmonton. He was followed on Monday by Mrs. Chambers and the boys. They have purchased a farm eighteen miles from the city and will go into dairy farming next spring. During the summer Mrs. Chambers expects to work at his trade.

Word has been received that Jack McClung has won a commission on the field of battle. He is in the Prince Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.
Long, McClung left Canada
more than two years ago as a private at that station. He has had three hundred in the trenches, and is now 21 years old. He is a son of Mrs.
Nettie McClung, of Edmonton.

The present season has been a great disappointment to the sportsmen, especially in the duck line.
Some of the best duck hunters in the country have returned time and again with a few miserable hoppers evidently shot by pot shots. There was one sport, however, did a little better than the rest of the boys and it was only a few days ago that the truth of the shooting expedition that he took part in was disclosed. It seems that this sport fell in with two little boys who told him one shell. They were very lucky in getting two fine mallards with the lousy shell and were on their way home when our sport stood barbed with them. He was succeeded in getting them. After driving a careful in getting the two mallards
for 10 shells, and at that he was lucky to most of the hunters fire at least 25 shells to a trip without getting a duck. There are lots of people who would like to know who the sport was but on account of him leaving the honest business to escape in the honest farm life, we are not going to disclose his name.

MOST SUCCESSFUL DAY SINCE
WAR BEGAN

(By the Associated Press.)

Bulgaria is definitely out of the war, and Turkey, virtually cut off from her allies and almost annihilated in Palestine, may soon be forced to sue for a cessation of hostilities against her.

Meanwhile, the entente allied forces from Belgium to Verdun, on air battlefronts, are registering victory after victory over the Teutonic allies, and the enemy, notwithstanding the desperate resistance that is being offered on various sectors.

Seeing that the front is now in the face through the swift progress of the Serbian, Italian, British, Greek and French troops in the reclaiming of Serbia and the invasion of Bulgarian territory, the Bulgars begged for an armistice, restricting themselves to no conditions. All the territory now held by King Ferdinand's men is to be abandoned. The Bulgarian army is to be demobilized and all means of transport inside the Kingdom are to be given up. The Bulgars are to be given over to allied hands.

Thus in addition to the isolation of Turkey, the back door is direct in the invasion of Austria-Hungary is being wide open to the allies, and doubtless the time is not far distant when the struggle to the fall will be taken of the new avenue through which the enemy can be reached. With debacle of Serbia and Bulgaria complete, the Austro-Hungarians in Albania soon will be put to the test, and when their evacuation to their own borders is accomplished, the allies will have welded an iron semi-circle about the central powers from the Black sea to the North sea.

Viewing the situation in all its aspects—the success of the great offensive in France, the blotting out of the war zone in the Balkans, the cutting off of the Turks from intercourse with Germany and Austria-Hungary, the progress by the long route through the Caucasus and southern Russia, and the steady gains in making Russia once more a factor in the struggle, the darkest days of the war are seemingly faced by the Austro-Germans.

Although it has been officially announced that hostilities against the Bulgarians ceased at noon Monday the French official communication on Monday night said French cavalry had entered Udraka, one of the most important communication centers in Serbia. It is not improbable that the French reached the town before the armistice became effective.

On all sectors under attack, from Belgian Flanders to the region of Verdun, the German front is gradually bending back under the violence of the attacks of the British, American, French and Belgians. In Belgium, the advance of the troops of King Albert and of Field Marshall Haig have pierced so deeply outward that Germany's submarine bases on the North sea are in jeopardy through the impending cutting of the rail communication between them. The famous Mesines-Wytschate ridge has been captured, and the allied guns dominated the plain around both Menin and Roulers, important railway junction points for the supply of the German armies in the hands of the British and Belgians.

From Cambrai to St. Quentin, the British and Americans have delivered successfully hard smashes against the German strong points all along the front, including the remaining portions of the old Hindenburg line. The Germans here are offering most strenuous resistance and in counterattacks compelled the British on one or two sectors to withdraw for slight distances. The British are in tightest contact with the Germans in the process of cleaning up the town of Cambrai, having penetrated its suburbs from the northwest and southwest. In the rear of St. Quentin, where the Americans are fighting with the British, the old Hindenburg line has been completely penetrated to a depth of three miles over a front of eight miles.

In conjunction with the operations of the French northern army, the Germans have begun the evacuation of the Chemin-de-Dames, and the French now hold the entire line on their defensive position. Likewise there is an indication that the enemy intends to give up the remaining positions held by him along the Vesle to Reims.

In Champagne, the French troops of the Army of the Meuse are pressing forward, and likewise to the east of this position the Americans are moving northward in unison. Already the big German salient is virtually out flanked, and apparently soon will be made a part of the Franco-American line.

Reports from Amsterdam are to the effect that the emperor has accepted the resignations of Count von Hertling and Admiral von Hintze, respectively, Imperial German chancellor and foreign minister.

BRITISH BAG 100 ENEMY AIR
CRAFT

Ottawa, Sept. 26.—Dealing with British aerial operations a cablegram has been received, compiled by the minister of information under the authority of the war cabinet, by the director of public information.

After five days of almost perpetual storm and rain, the week's air war culminated in a remarkable burst of fighting on the British western front and over Germany itself. Notwithstanding unfavorable weather conditions, from Tuesday to Saturday eight British aeroplanes seized every opportunity to press home the advantages gained in recent operations. In the intervals that were fine they took many prisoners and destroyed more than 20 tons of bombs on the enemy organizations behind their lines.

On Sept. 15 improved weather produced very marked aerial developments and large numbers of enemy machines were encountered on the German side of the line. In two days fighting 38 British machines were reported missing, but 72 German machines were destroyed, 27 were downed and a kite balloon on fire, making a total of 100 enemy aircraft in forty-eight hours. While these heavy battles were proceeding, British bombing squadrons were very active, dropping more than 70 tons of bombs on military objectives behind the battle line.

Probably there never has been a more formidable persistent air assault than that the Rhine suffered from British airmen during the past week. On September 18 and 19 thirty-three separate raids were made. Twelve went for the vital railway junction triangle of Metz-Sion, four against Corbeil junction, seven against railways at Arras, Eir, Hange, Saarbrücken, Kaiserslautern, Mainz, while heavy attacks were also made on the enemy airfields at Briel Boulay, Freslay and Haguenau. Six repeated attacks in the same place were necessary because of the perpetually renewed German reprisals.

In addition destructive raids were also made the chemical and air-plant factories at Mannheim, the Daimler works at Stuttgart and dock sidings at Karlsruhe. Fifty-ton tons of bombs were dropped during five days, which equals more than half the total weight of bombs dropped during the whole preceding month. The material results are clearly shown in photographic and other records and a number of direct hits were obtained on all objectives.

Besides maintaining all the usual patrols they have attacked vigorously the naval military works at Bremen, Ostend, St. Omer, Zeebrugge, etc. One of these places on September 16 no fewer than 11 enemy machines were destroyed, seven more driven down, with only two British machines failing to return.

AGENTS MUST HAVE LICENSE

The attention of the Canada Food Board has been called to the practice frequently adopted by Licensed Dealers in Apples, Turnips, Potatoes and other Fruit and Vegetables, of having men living in different parts of the country acting as their Agents, buying or contracting such produce, and representing the loading of same on cars ready for shipment, and receiving a commission from said dealers in such work.

All such Agents operating in the manner mentioned, without first having secured a license from the Food Board, are doing so contrary to the Order dated 13th day of December, 1917, wherein it states—

That on and after the 1st day of February, 1918, no person shall deal wholesale in fresh fruits or fresh vegetables, without first having obtained a license from the Food Board, and in violation of such orders are guilty of an offence, and subject to a penalty not to exceed $100.00, and not less than $100.00.

VICTORIA FIREMEN ON STRIKE

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 1.—Victoria's firemen went on strike at 10 o'clock this morning as a result of the action of the union in the night in dismissing Fire Chief Davidson on the grounds of economy and reorganization. The firemen announce that they will only give up emergency cases. They also asked the industrial union for higher wages and the two-piston system.

WOULD CUT DOWN NEWSPAPER
PAGES THROUGHOUT
CANADA

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—R. A. Pringle K. C., paper controller, is issuing an order to the publishers of Canadian newspapers to attend a meeting at Ottawa on Wednesday, October 16, to consider the matter of the conservation of newsprint, including recommendations which have been made by him calculated to reduce the consumption of paper during the war.

The controller suggests the advisability of limiting the number of newspapers to one edition and evening newspapers to two editions, also the elimination of comic supplements. The advisability of forbidding the printing of non-newsprint matter will also be considered as well as a proposal to standardize the volume of reading matter to be allowed each newspaper.

DESTROY THE CUT WORMS

"The destructiveness of the cut worms has not been an evident factor," declares Mr. F. Abraham, chairman of the Home Garden and Vernal Lot Section of the Canada Food Board. "An early season on some extent minimized the loss from this pest. The time to attack the cut worms is now. If the cut worms are to be controlled, the eggs of this worm are laid in the autumn, and if after all eggs are laid, the ground is well broken up plowed, the larvae will be so buried as to destroy ninety-five per cent of them."

"I strongly advise," he added, "that any available foot of town land be plowed up. During the winter there will be plenty of time to organize for plowing in the vegetables, or even cereals, but get as much plowing under way as possible. Cities and towns are the only available source of surplus labor, and every ounce of food will be required."

SUCCESS OF LIBERTY LOAN

Washington, Oct. 1.—Successes of the allied troops in France are being reflected in the campaign for the fourth Liberty Loan. This was the opinion of Treasury officials today, as new reports were received showing many communities of the country which last night, at the close of the third day of the campaign, had subscribed greater sums than the total pledged for the third loan.

Official figures were not available for the various federal reserve districts, and it was said it probably would be two days yet before daily reports from the 12 districts could be issued.

$70,000 FIRE AT LETHBRIDGE

Lethbridge, Sept. 26.—A disastrous fire occurred at 3 o'clock this morning in a down town section, when the wholesale fruit warehouse of Plankett & Savage was completely gutted and the loss of fruit, candy and tobacco totally destroyed.

The Scott Fruit Company next door also suffered, but not so disastrously, fire spreading along the roof to the building. Here the stock was partially burned and the contents suffered from the water used by the firemen. The fire was not gotten under control until 6 o'clock this morning. The premises and contents are partially insured. The net loss will exceed seventy thousand dollars.

Y. M. C. A. "BEAVER HUT"

A bed, including bath, towel, soap and kit, storage in London costs the Canadian Tommy 18 c. that is if he goes to the Canadian Y. M. C. A. "Beaver Hut" in the Strand. The meals cost him the same with the strains of an orchestra thrown in.

Nominate to relate that our boys overseas are "licked to death" with their new metropolitan center. Costing $100,000, and situated in the most famous thoroughfare in the Empire, the Beaver Hut is run primarily by Canadians for Canadians, although the hospital is run by all the men of the allied forces visiting London on leave. A voluntary staff of 300 nurses to relate to the Head Fitzgibbon, of Fredrickton, N. B., attend to the preparation and service of meals. Dermatology, with nearly 200 beds, are under the same efficient care, and the ladies work in four-hour shifts, maintaining a twenty-four hour service. No matter A, what hour a tired and hungry Canadian soldier arrives in London he finds an open door, a smiling welcome, and a hot meal at the "Beaver Hut."

After a warm bath, refreshing sleep, breakfast, haircut, shave, and a hot drink, the Canadian soldier, Tommy feels like a new man. He has packed up his troubles in his old kit, bag and placed the lot in safe keeping with the clerk at the Kit Storage. It only remains for him to look in at the information Bureau on the second floor and select one of the many suggestions to be found there for the spending of his leave. He can then set off to enjoy the beauties and hospitality of the Old Country until his time is up and he must return, rejuvenated, to the trenches.

Such an institution as the "Beaver Hut" cannot fail to render a great service to our Canadian boys overseas. It provides a shelter from, and a counter-attraction to, the many temptations and distractions that seek to prey on their businesses.

NO NEGOTIATIONS WITHOUT OCCUPATION

San Francisco, Cal. Sept. 30.—Sounding a keynote of "no negotiation without occupation," James G. Thompson, former United States ambassador to Germany, declared in an address today there must be no thought of peace until troops of the entente have forced their way into German territory. Mr. Thompson was speaking for the fourth annual meeting of the San Francisco Commercial club.

"There must be no negotiation without occupation," he said. "The United States and her allies must force their way into German territory despite all attempts at peace, and must keep on going until Germany bows to their will."

"We must not allow Germany to increase her man-power. It would be a great help to Germany if the people of Estonia, Livonia and Poland. Fifteen per cent of the population in the Baltic provinces is made up of Germans who exercise a complete influence over the ignorant population."

Mr. Thompson predicted a revolution in Germany after the war "which will make the French revolution look like a Sunday school picnic."

"There is no need in Germany to start a revolution now," he said, "but the returning soldier will demand an accounting, and having so lately emerged from savagery, they will strike hard."

Mr. Thompson said the defection of Bulgarians from the central alliance was "a splendid augury for the re-establishment of an eastern front."

SOLDIER'S LETTER

Mrs. John Miller has received the following letter from her son, Driver D. Miller, B. Battery, C. R. A., now in England:

Edinburgh, Sept. 10, 1918. Dear Mother—Just a few lines to let you know I am well. As you can see by the paper that I am in Edinburgh, Scotland, on pass. My pass came through on the 6th Sept., and I have been up here for four days now. But the worst of it is, that I have not yet been back on the 12th. I only got six days but I think that is better than none at all. Anyway, I am sure I am in the right of Scotland. All the old-fashioned castles and palaces that they used in the old days. It is a wonderful sight. I have had lots of coin and a pass forever just so I could tour the whole British Isles. I used to wonder what all the English and Scotch people had to blow about, but now I have found out for myself. I am sitting in the window of the soldiers club now writing this letter and I can see the Edinburgh Castle just about a quarter of a mile from here. Just across the beautiful park, and say it is a wonderful sight I wish you were up here in the highland so you could see for yourself how lovely it is. Why there are places here you would never dream about in Canada. But I don't think it will do to tell you too much about these places because the censor might not allow it.

You can get on the tram car here and ride all over the city for a penny. I forget to tell you that I got the last money you sent me, French money. I think you had better not send it that way again because they won't give me full value for it. You see, I got thirteen dollars and something for it where, if I had been a bank money order I would have got the whole fifteen. But I was real glad to get it, as it came the day before I went on leave. I am sending you a couple of programmes of theatres I was at. I thought you would like them for a souvenir. I also had my picture taken with three other boys yesterday. But they won't be done for a week yet. I will send you one when I get it.

I suppose you are wondering why you haven't heard from me, for so long, but to tell the truth I have been very busy. I am making the night long, but I haven't had time. I am anxious to get out and look around again so I will say good bye.

Your son,
Dug.

"MIDNIGHT MADNESS"

Jewels rich and rare had been stolen. The thief had been wounded in the left hand. That was the only clue. Prentice Tiller entered his hotel bedroom and dressed a wound in his left hand. In the next room he found a man, Tiller overheard her phone to Aaron Mollor. He enters and says he is Mollor. Gertrude, distrusts him but fears for her son, reason to call the police, even when he tells her he is going to rob her of the jewels he declares she has Mollor's knuckle and Tiller escapes. He sees, however, that Mollor is also wounded in the left hand. Through a plan Gertrude takes Tiller to the ruins of an old church, where he is suddenly snatched away and escapes death in an old well by more accident, though he permits Mollor to think him dead. The next night Gertrude is informed of Tiller's death, but at that very moment Tiller steps in through the French window and demands the jewels. The police are watching the house and break in as he holds the others up. To save Gertrude, Tiller allows the police to think he is Mollor. As Mollor's father and her father are taking a boat for France, Tiller joins them and Mollor begins to think he is one of the police. They go to the haunt of the master crook, Cheval. Lola, his plaything, loves him passionately and becomes jealous of his attentions to Gertrude. Lola attempts to kill Gertrude, but Tiller prevents and just then the police break in and in the confusion Tiller gives Gertrude the bag of jewels and pushes her out of a side door. The girl is killed by Lola, and Tiller escapes in disguise.

The above feature is to be played at the Rex Theatre on Friday and Saturday, October 4 and 5.

"COME THROUGH"

"I hear," writes George Brownson Howard, that the big melodrama of Rex and the Underworld, called "Come Through" is one of the best pictures of many years.

I'm glad to hear this. I ought to know. I wrote it. Furthermore, I'm pretty sure I never wrote a better Moving Picture than "Come Through" and I've written some little bunch in my time.

As I see it—the first big reason for "Come Through's" howling success is the fact that the "Possum" was forced by a man he'd never seen before, to marry a girl he'd never seen before—and a high society girl at that!

The second reason is Rawlinson—who is one of the very few actors I've known who can portray a perfectly ice-cold devil of a crook and yet make you realize that he's a gentleman after all. Herbert Rawlinson, as the "Possum," is positively "wicked." I'd be afraid of him, myself, even if I did originate him.

At the Rex Theatre, Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 7 and 8.

RED CROSS NOTES

The following contributions have been made to the general fund lately: Previously acknowledged—$3461.25

Sewing—Mednesnes N. Premstad, J.J. Anderson, O. Nelson, H. Bille, O. Vornstad, Jon. Olson and Miss Hal.

A letter of thanks for the last shipment of garments was received lately. Mrs. Waagen wished the workers to be awarded a hearty appreciation of the careful work done.

SOCIAL EVENING

The social evening which was given by the ladies of the St. John's Church was a most enjoyable function. There were about seventy persons which gave promise of a good attendance. The success of the evening has been arranged. Mrs. J. Phoenix opened the programme with a few well chosen words which she welcomed those present and expressed his gratitude for the use of Harrison Hall for the occasion. Following the opening address a splendid program which had been arranged by Mr. W. G. Moffatt was then rendered. There was not a poor piece on the program and every artist who appeared drew forth a hearty applause. The local artists who were part were as follows: Miss E. Anderson, Miss E. Moffatt, Miss L. Torgerson, Miss E. Johnson, Miss E. Knuth, Miss H. Tildesand, Mr. Hillier, and Mr. Williams. Mr. W. Moffatt was the accompanist throughout. A very interesting, instructive and humorous address was given by Mr. J.R. Watt. He spoke highly of the value of the lecture series which had been inaugurated by Rev. Mr. Phoenix and predicted that they would continue to grow in their influence and would be a great educational and uplifting force in the community. Refreshments were served by the gentlemen who occupied the back seats, after which, everyone retired feeling physically as well as intellectually well content. It is impossible to exaggerate the importance of these fortnightly gatherings. It seems to be the only opportunity at present afforded for the different churches to get together. The harmony and good will that prevails in these gatherings only emphasizes the righteousness of the series and prejudices that are the most important things of life keep us apart. It is to be hoped that every section will be well attended and that the interest so conspicuous the first night will be in evidence all through the series.

Items marked "shield event" are to be entered by boys of the high school competing against students of the High River, Norton, Stave, Meekwood and Pincher Creek. The school obtaining the highest number of points will hold the shield donated by the Park Association.
The High River Basket Ball team has been challenged to play for the Basket Ball donated by the same association.
Liberal prizes will be given a list of which will appear in the next issue of the Advertiser. Admission will probably be 25c to be divided between the Association and the school. Any surplus will be devoted to sport equipments.

ATTENTION TO PLANT DISEASES AFTER HARVEST

(Experimental Farm Note.)

The plant pathologists of the Experimental Farm inform us that of the many destructive plant diseases, none are more difficult to control than those which overwinter in the soil. After your new potatoes are harvested, practice of crop rotation, the effects of soil infection after harvest. One of the most serious of these diseases is caused by a fungus, particularly known as "soil sickness." One of the most serious of these diseases is caused by a fungus, particularly known as "soil sickness." One of the most serious of these diseases is caused by a fungus, particularly known as "soil sickness."

A disease similar in nature attacks beets and there are other instances which call for a word of general advice, on matters of prevention.

As soon as crops are harvested, whether in the field, garden or orchard, there is manifested a universal indifference and neglect on the part of some growers towards the condition in which the ground, trees or bushes are left. Were it not known to them that with the surface left on the ground from their crops there exist myriads of eggs of serious plant diseases (and also insect pests) ready for hibernation!

Mammals found in orchards left undisturbed, either on the trees or on the ground, give rise to a new outbreak of brown rot in spring. Ploughing under after only limited protection, since it safely buries all fungous material which spring ploughing will bring to the surface of the soil once more after successful hibernation. Prevention, as usual, the condition better than cure, and sanitary measures are just as important in field, garden or orchard as in the case of dwellings. As soon as possible, after the harvest of each crop, or better, after the growing season is over, a general cleanup is most essential. Where, possible, all refuse should be collected; diseased or rotten fruits, leaves, stems, haulms, etc., should be gathered and the whole destroyed by fire. Material that will not burn readily, such as is common on the fields after harvesting, such as pea stalks, etc., should be buried in a pit. In orchards, where such measures are followed by the usual dormant sprays, the results will be most beneficial, and field and garden crops will also greatly benefit.

AMERICANS SUPPLIED WITH GAS

New York, Sept. 24.—Prediction that Germany, which initiated the use of poison gas in warfare, "will have more than her fill of it" the next twelve months, was made in an address at the opening of the National Exposition of Chemical Industries here last night by Charles N. Herby, chairman of the advisory committee. He declared that "the great army of chemists which is now being trained in Europe will be abundantly supplied. Analyses of, which the United States was largely dependent upon Germany in four years ago, were exhibited in many shades as a result of the work of American chemists. Many other exhibits from all parts of this country and from Canada were also shown."

SENT UP WITH GRAIN STEALING

At Champion the other day Arthur McKeown was brought in a prisoner charged with the theft of $40.00 in cash from the Alberta Pacific Express. Mr. Deane the agent noting the man to be a stranger felt rather suspicious and the grain company consequently notified Police Magistrate Alcock, who after thoroughly investigating the case discovered that the grain had been stolen from Herb Goodwin, Jim. 12 miles north of Champion. Mr. McKeown was brought up for trial on Wednesday evening and pleaded guilty. Police Magistrate Alcock after taking into consideration the character of the accused which is only 18 years sentenced the young man to 3 months hard labor and cost of court.

Farmers are Stopping the Profit-Eating Leaks this Year

Comparatively few farmers fail or lose heavily because of misfortune such as fire, wind or drought. The majority of failures and losses are from combined little leaks, and it is the many little leaks that are being studied and stopped.

HERE ARE SOME OF THEM—Feeding Wastes, Disease from Unsanitary Buildings, Unrepaired Machinery. There are others but here are enough to kill the profits on any farm.

THE REMEDY—Concrete Granary Foundations and Floors, Concrete Barn and Hog House Floors, a Machine Shed. None of them are expensive and each will quickly pay for itself. Call and let us give you prices.
